

4-MONTH SEMESTER ABROAD

STUDY IN BOSTON FOR ONE SEMESTER AND EARN A GRADUATE CERTIFICATE

The Study Abroad Semester at Northeastern University's Graduate Business School allows international students to immerse themselves in global business culture for 4 months in Boston. This one-semester, 12-credit, Graduate Certificate in Business Administration is open to all MBA or Graduate Business students around the world who have a current equivalent gpa of 3.000 on a US 4.000 scale.

Students can select any four 3-credit courses from our current MBA program to complete in one semester. Northeastern is AACSB accredited so with proper approval and communication with your home university, these credits can transfer back into your home program.

Why Northeastern?

Business education around the world is experiencing major change. Change that makes this an exciting and pivotal time to attend Northeastern University's D'Amore-McKim School of Business. Northeastern University hosts over 8,500 international students and scholars from 140 different nations across the world.

The integration of academic thinking with authentic, experiential learning is fast becoming the proven method for developing skills needed to meet today's business-world demands. Our courses fuse rigorous academics with meaningful business experience, creating a synergy that is vital to accelerating your careers.

The networking opportunities are endless - you will have the chance to meet Boston alumni, engage with student organizations, leverage Northeastern's corporate partnerships, and create deep bonds among your peers and professors.

Northeastern University is consistently ranked among the top university for "Best Career Services" by the Princeton Review.

Why Boston?

Boston is a global destination for college students with a student population of about 300,000 each September including an international student population of about 20,000. These numbers contribute to the diversity, liveliness and dynamic feel of Boston. Boston is a thriving center for finance, technology, medicine, life sciences and education, it's an incubator for thought leaders in the start-up community and one of the true intellectual capitals of the world. It is a city of safe and livable neighborhoods, historic sites, mature parks and public gardens, and architectural beauty.

"The students that attend this program are from all over the world with varied cultural perspectives. The varied points of view lend to more robust discussion, more informed global views, and a curiosity that spans ideas for both innovation and cooperation. The excitement is evident both in and out of the classroom, as they experience the excitement of Boston and all it has to offer.

RUSS MORAN
EXECUTIVE PROFESSOR
D'AMORE-MCKIM SCHOOL OF BUSINESS

LET US HELP YOU GET STARTED.

To apply or learn more, visit northeastern.edu/getmyGCBAabroad