

The University of Roehampton International Summer School

Welcome to Roehampton

The University of Roehampton invites you to study abroad on our beautiful campus in south west London. You will live alongside international students, make life-long friends and return home with a new perspective on the world and the life skills that employers are looking for.

Studying at Roehampton gives you the best of both worlds; a welcoming campus community and easy access to central London.

London's campus university

Kew Gardens is London's largest UNESCO World Heritage site, offering unique landscapes, vistas and iconic architecture.

All students can access the British Library's 150 million items for research.

National Archives

Houses of Parliament – Our academic research contributes to government policy and decision making.

London Wetland Centre – The Wildfowl and Wetlands Trust is one of the world's leading science and conservation institutions in its field.

Your Campus

With a history dating back over 175 years, Roehampton's four Colleges create a beautiful 54-acre parkland campus, with historic buildings alongside modern, cutting-edge facilities.

You can enjoy our excellent campus facilities including a state-of-the-art library, computer and esports suites, dance and drama studios and laboratories for sports and biosciences. After class you can keep fit in our on-campus gym, catch up with your new friends in our organic coffee shop or enjoy the sunshine on Froebel lawn.

Our location in leafy south west London, welcoming campus and 24/7 security all give you extra reassurance of safety in London.

Academic Programme

Our summer modules make the most of our proximity to the city centre, and offer you the chance to experience London from a critical, academic perspective. With London as the backdrop to study, the city functions as a living classroom.

Credit Transfer

Each Roehampton summer module carries 10 or 20 UK credits. You will receive a transcript at the end of your studies, which your home University will use to transfer these credits to your academic record back home.

You will choose one module per three week academic session. Modules may include:

- Media, City and Cultural Capital
Department of Media, Culture & Language
- Gods and Heroes of Classical Mythology
Department of Humanities
- From Renaissance to Abstraction: The History of Art in London Museums

Summer in London

With classes only running Monday – Thursday you will have plenty of time to enjoy London. The Roehampton Abroad team will give you plenty of tips and recommendations to make the most of your time in the city.

What our students say...

“The best thing about Roehampton is its diversity. You get to know people who come from all over the world, experience new cultures and learn new languages.”

“The location, you get the best of both worlds – a campus feel but very close to central London with so much going on!”

“At Roehampton, I loved the connections I made, how close I was to London and having the ability to take classes not offered at my home university.”

“Having a great community of people to support me. It’s so easy to travel everywhere, such a great location.”

Supporting You

With a supportive campus environment, tailored events and activities and support from your dedicated Roehampton Abroad team – the Summer School will allow you to make the most of your time in London.
