Welcome to Regent's University London

Regent's University London is a private university, with a highly cosmopolitan community, based in royal Regent's Park.

Set in the heart of the UK's vibrant capital, Regent's is a superb place in which to live and study, just minutes away from all that this world-class city has to offer.

Studying abroad can be of huge benefit when it comes to developing your interpersonal skills and increasing your career prospects.

Come to our beautiful central London campus and find out what Regent's can offer you.

regents.ac.uk/visit

We are delighted to welcome students and staff from across the world to our campus each year.

Regent's is proud to be one of the most international universities in the UK, with a commitment to enhancing international education that is embedded in our organisational culture. Supporting student mobility is a top priority for us.

The high quality teaching at Regent's complements a portfolio of degrees and courses where excellence, innovation and enterprise are the driving forces for success.

Supporting students, valuing staff and working in partnership with others are at the heart of the University.

Our commitment is to lead the intellectual, social and economic development of the communities we serve.

We pride ourselves on building strong partnerships locally and around the world.

Working with a broad range of institutions and organisations is an integral part of our core values.

Our Study Abroad students enjoy a unique experience, working alongside Regent's students with academic and personal support from all departments across the University. They bring their international knowledge to our classrooms and enhance the quality of our teaching.

Regent's mission is 'Developing tomorrow's global leaders', and as such supporting student mobility is at the heart of what we do.

We look forward to welcoming you here.

Cosmopolitan campus

At Regent's, you will be a part of one of the most cosmopolitan educational communities in the United Kingdom.

With classmates from all corners of the world, you will make international friends, learn about other cultures and build a global network of contacts for the future.

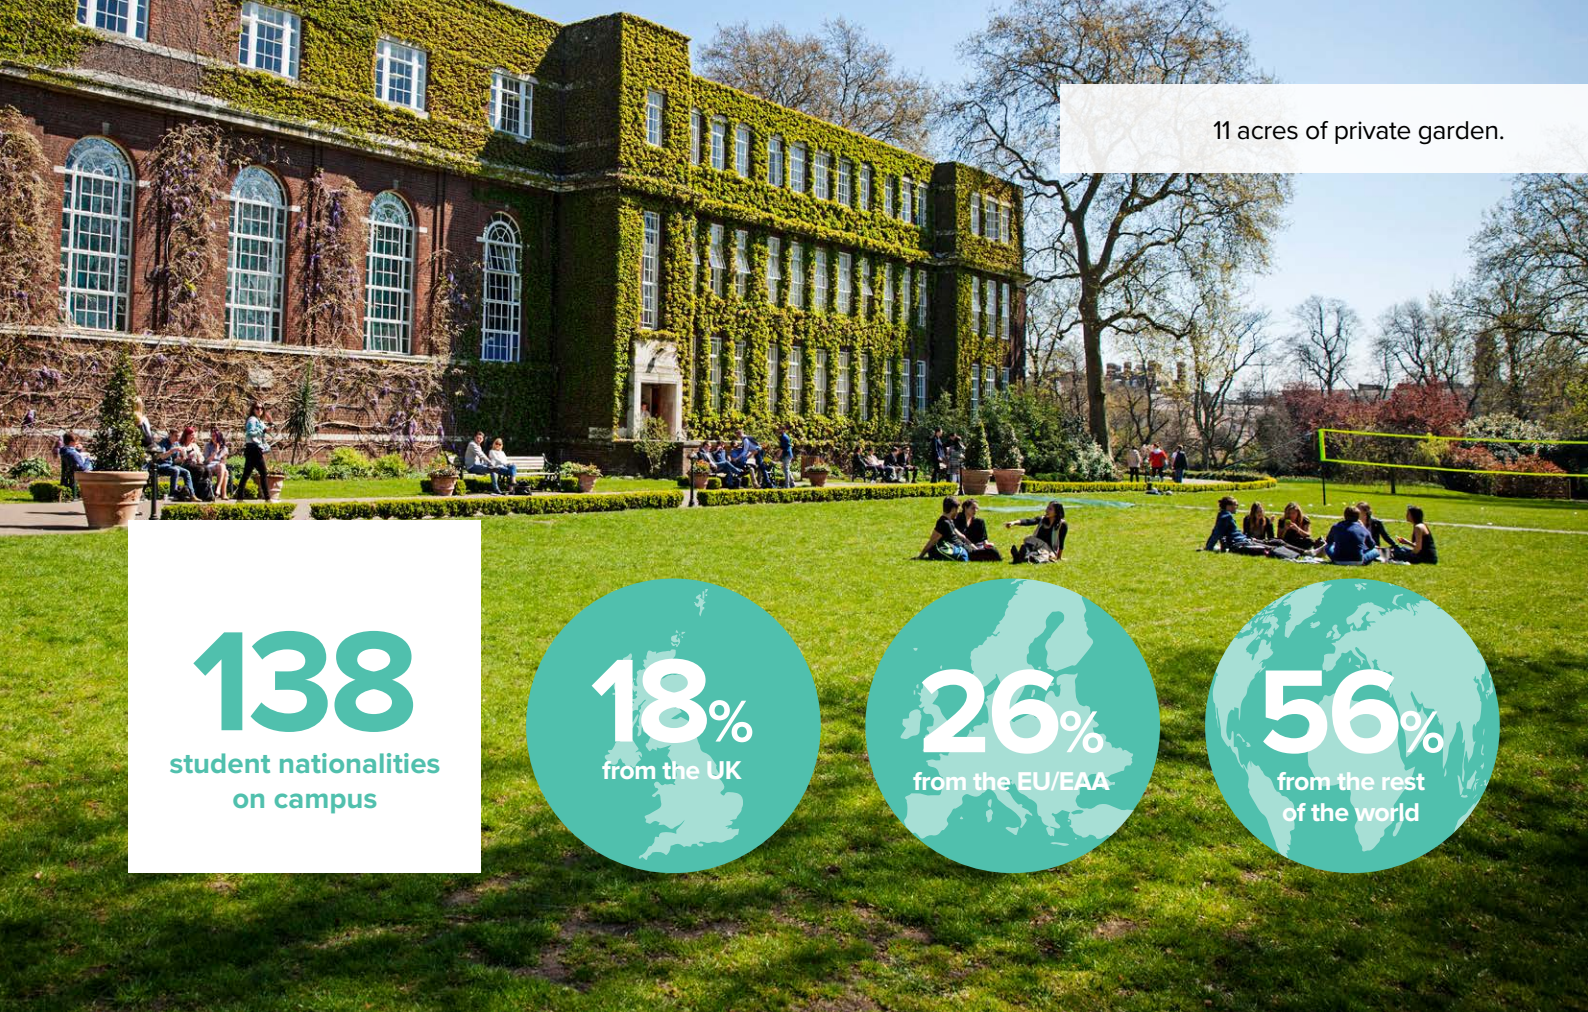

Mixing with around 3,500 other students on campus, at Regent's you will never be just another face in the crowd.

All students automatically become members of the Student Union, which is your voice at the University. The Union represents student interests at all levels of decision-making, as well as providing services and activities to enhance student life. Clubs and societies vary from year to year, encompassing everything from photography to debating, music and human rights. Events on campus include high-profile speakers from business and industry, plus regular social events such as St. Patrick's Day and the Grand Ball.

I loved being part of a melting-pot of nationalities, cultures and traditions at Regent's. Being a "foreign" student myself, I never feel alone at Regent's. In fact, I felt part of something bigger and more inclusive.

Study abroad At Regent's

International experience is an increasingly important part of higher education. Spending part of your degree at university in another country is a great way of expanding your horizons, both academically and personally.

Our students come from over 140 countries to join what is a truly international community. You will learn from each other as well as from an equally diverse range of highly qualified academics. Our students value the opportunity that being at Regent's gives you to forge long-lasting relationships and connections all over the world.

Regent's has one of the widest international partner networks for study abroad among UK institutions. Our students have access to over 60 exceptional partner institutions, and in turn we welcome many students from across the world each year.

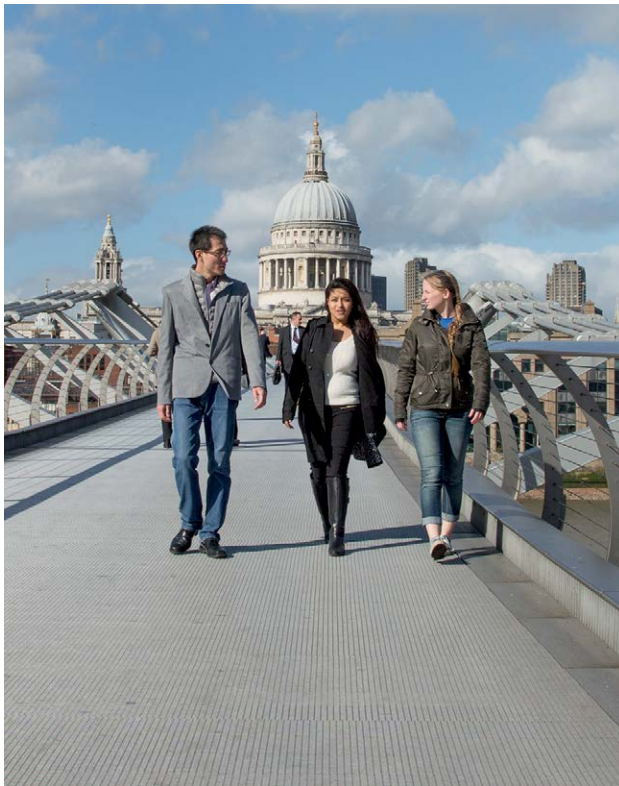

Studying abroad is more than an academic adventure – living and studying in another country is a great way to gain new perspectives, learn new skills and grow in confidence.

As well as enjoying your time on our beautiful campus, you will be ideally placed to explore all that London has to offer. The city's culture, heritage and commerce form an essential part of the student experience at Regent's.

You can also broaden your horizons further by taking advantage of a range of excursions on offer through the University, such as trips to other UK cities and landmarks, and London tours. Or you could hop across to Europe with a weekend trip to Paris or Amsterdam.

Why choose Regent's?

- We offer challenging and creative degrees that synthesise academic learning with practical hands-on experience
- We encourage you to develop professional acumen, creative confidence and intercultural intelligence – qualities that are key to career success
- You will learn from experts, with guest lectures by high-profile professionals that put your learning in context and provide vital industry insight
- A personal approach to teaching and learning that gives you plenty of contact time with your tutors
- An international community giving you a global perspective and the opportunity to develop invaluable networks for the future

Study Abroad options

Regent's offers a diverse range of degree programmes in business and management, the creative arts and psychology, as well as an extensive liberal arts curriculum.

You can choose from modules across our undergraduate and postgraduate degree programmes, offering a unique opportunity to build a highly varied module load. For details of each subject area and the modules on offer, see pages 8–15.

Our academic year is divided into autumn and spring terms (semesters), running from September to December and January to May each year.

We welcome applications from students nominated through our partnership network, as well as independent applications from students who wish to study at Regent's for a short period of time as part of their degree.

We also welcome students to our intensive summer programmes. For more details, see page 17 or visit regents.ac.uk/summer

For further information on the above, and on the nomination and application process and deadlines, visit regents.ac.uk/inbound

The campus is a hidden paradise in the beautiful city of London. Regent's is a big community that you start to feel part of as soon as you first walk in. Everyone is very friendly, and the University is keen on making everyone feel at home. There are a lot of events on campus where you can meet new people and enjoy your time. This experience helped me in the process of building a solid CV while enjoying my time in a city which is incredibly dynamic and full of opportunities for young people. International mobility really opens your mind and broadens your horizons.

Business & management

I was interested in having the opportunity to study in London, because it's one of the most important cities in the world in relation to my studies in financial services. Studying abroad gave me the possibility of meeting people from all over the world and knowing different cultures and ways of teaching. I've enjoyed the free tours organised by Regent's, to know even more London and its culture.

Matias Modugno, University of CEMA, Argentina

At Regent's we go beyond the standard business education, encouraging our students to be the best they can.

At Regent's, we:

Will Conard Fashion Design and Fashion Merchandising Scholarship

This is a unique opportunity for undergraduate students to study in the fashion capital of the world – exclusive to Study Abroad students.

Will Conard established a Study Abroad programme which grew into the Fashion & Design Study Abroad programme at Regent's. A number of students have benefited from Will's legacy by coming to study with us in the heart of London. His efforts in establishing and developing strong relationships with universities and colleges across the US was the key to the great success he brought to his work.

The offer includes free tuition and accommodation for a regular 12-week academic term or a 6-week summer programme at the Regent's University London campus. For further information about the application deadline and process, visit regents.ac.uk/funding

Fashion Programme with Internship (Professional Placement)

This 12-week programme is ideal for those interested in building global skills and putting academic learning into practice in a professional fashion work environment.

The internship is a taught, credit-bearing placement. This exciting programme offers students a block of 6-week study followed by a 6-week placement within the fashion industry in London, plus weekly tutorials with a Regent's tutor.

This programme runs in summer, and due to high demand there are a limited number of internship places available.

Note: non-UK/non-EU students participating in the programme will need to apply for a Tier 4 visa.

Please contact us to discuss details and possible arrangements studyabroad@regents.ac.uk

Film, media & performance

We offer you the creative education and training to develop as a professional in the modern theatre, screen and media industries.

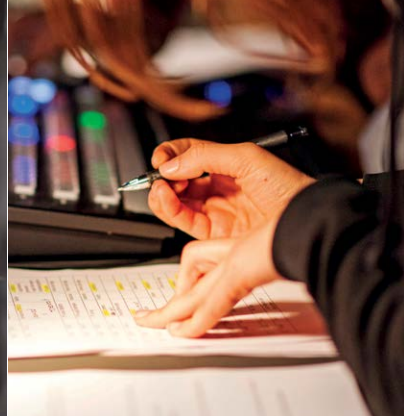

Our Study Abroad students go on an incredible life journey of self-discovery, intellectual enquiry and creative exploration. Our modules help to develop your industry intelligence, giving you real-world vocational skills and plenty of opportunity to put what they study into practice.

At Regent's, we:

- Give you the creative freedom to work on your own projects and ideas and develop your artistic identity
- Help you to develop the essential business and personal skills needed to succeed in the fast-paced creative industries
- Enable you to experience techniques from all over the world and build your own creative toolkit, with classes in acting, voice, movement, scenography and theatre history

Study Abroad students can choose from a wide range of modules, including:

Acting for Stage and Screen
Adapting for Screen
Biographical Film
Campaign Production
Cinematography
Directing for the Screen
Introduction to Film Production
Mapping World Performance

Writing for Children

Liberal arts & humanities

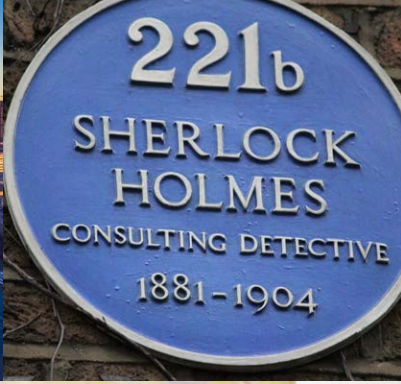

Liberal arts is a learning philosophy with a very long pedigree. Once widely taught in Europe and beyond, it is now the foundation for American higher education. The liberal arts approach develops adaptable, resourceful graduates who are trained as tomorrow's global leaders.

At Regent's, you will benefit from:

- A wide-ranging, multi-disciplinary curriculum that challenges you to think independently, make connections across many different subject areas and question conventional wisdom
- A varied education that enables you to develop the transferable skills and capabilities to confidently work across industries and cultural boundaries
- A programme of regular guest speakers from a variety of professions and backgrounds who bring real-world experience to the classroom

Study Abroad students can choose from a wide range of modules, including:

British and American Musical Theatre
Gender
History
International Business
Journalism
Law
Literature
Media and Communications
Music and Film Studies
Philosophy
Politics

I chose Regent's for its wide range of opportunities to explore London and location in the centre of the city.

The art history courses included close interaction with the modern art world, such as visiting galleries, auction houses, state museums and private collections, and meeting many professionals working in this sphere.

As a study abroad student, I gained a great experience of integration in a different culture. It comes not just from the studies, but from the international environment I was immersed in during the whole semester, living on campus and spending time with my classmates in London.

The location let me interact with the city and learn a lot not only about British culture, but of many different cultures present in London. It felt great to be not just a tourist, but a part of its life.

Living at Reid Hall, I really enjoyed being a part of student community. I gained a lot of friends, who also stayed on campus. Chatting with them, having fun at student parties, and even having dinner together in the refectory are some of the best memories I have. Even the small parts of our everyday routine at Regent's I remember now as precious moments.

Communication between different nationalities and cultures can extend your inner understanding of the world. It is always great to see a diversity of opinions, mentalities and learn something new about different parts of human life.

Faculty-led and bespoke short courses

Regent's is the ideal venue for faculty-led and customised short courses in London and the UK.

We have a wealth of experience in designing tailor-made programmes to support and coordinate every step of your group's stay.

We can develop programmes of all shapes and sizes, from one- or two-day intensive courses or more traditional residential semester-based or summer programmes.

You can mix and match from our portfolio of services to complement your group's requirements.

Making arrangements for housing, classroom and transport can consume a lot of energy and time. We offer a one-stop solution. Combining logistical arrangements and outstanding facilities, we can help you to design a top-quality programme that ensures maximum value for your students.
