Study from one of our three North Island campuses

AUCKLAND

Based on Auckland's North Shore, the spacious campus blends architectural beauty with cutting-edge facilities. You'll have sandy beaches on your doorstep and a 20-minute bus ride to the bustling city center.

The campus encourages innovation through robust industry connections, featuring an on-site business incubator and trading room. It's an ideal space to explore impactful ideas, particularly excelling in social sciences, humanities, business, science, and health.

MANAWATŪ

Palmerston North's Manawātū campus is known for its green, park-like grounds. It sits between the Taranaki and Ruahine mountain ranges, and is just a few hours' drive from the central plateau ski fields.

Join a thriving student community and learn from experts. It is home to New Zealand's only internationally-accredited qualification in veterinary science and university-based aviation school. Beyond its academics, its got exceptional sport, state-of-the-art food plants, and agricultural facilities.

WELLINGTON

Surrounded by lush green hills and a diverse coastline, Wellington is famous for a vibrant creative culture fuelled by great food, coffee, and a fantastic arts scene. The campus is within walking distance of the central city and waterfront, beaches, and bush walks.

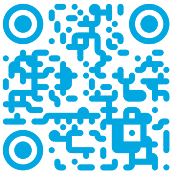

The College of Creative Arts is based here, with world-class facilities including film, music, photography and art studios, 3D labs and fabrication workshops, textile and fashion workrooms, gallery spaces, and more.

Earn credits that count toward your degree for a semester or two

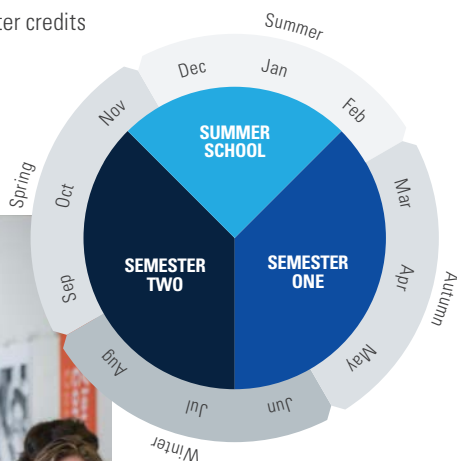

1 NAVIGATING ACADEMIC CREDITS

Students normally take four courses, each worth 15 credits, during a semester. 60 credits are equivalent to:

- 12–16 US semester credits
- 30 ECTS
- 60 CATS

2 CHOOSE YOUR SEMESTER

Our academic year is divided into two semesters

START YOUR JOURNEY WITH ORIENTATION

During the week prior to the start of classes, a number of workshops, excursions, and campus-wide activities are delivered through Massey's student orientation programme. This will help you meet people, get involved in university life, and explore your new surroundings.

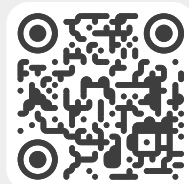

Impress your future employers

A FIELDWORK

A number of subject areas offer courses involving a fieldwork component, which is a great way to get hands-on experience outside the classroom. These courses also give you the opportunity to explore New Zealand as part of your studies.

B INTERNSHIPS

Strengthen your resume, gain valuable international experience and work on real-world problems relevant to your degree with an internship opportunities to advance your career.

DISABILITY SERVICE

Each campus has an office that coordinates support services and resources for students with disabilities, impairments, or health conditions. We provide support based on individual needs.

HEALTH AND COUNSELLING CENTRES

You can access comprehensive medical services delivered by registered doctors and nurses.

Additionally, our registered counsellors are here to offer confidential support as you navigate your thoughts, emotions, or concerns.

SPIRITUAL WELLBEING

You can find opportunities for learning, dialogue and celebration through Massey's Chaplaincy Service, as well as links to faith communities. There are a range of student faith groups and a Muslim prayer room on each campus.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

A Student Life Services team on each campus will assist you with

- insurance and visa questions
- academic support and workshops
- learning advisors and writing consultants
- assignment review service
- ongoing support throughout your time at Massey.

RAINBOW STUDENTS

The Kāhui Irarau is a social hub connecting rainbow communities and provides initiatives and content created by and for rainbow communities and allies.
